DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 1-20 are allowed.

Reasons for Allowance

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The closest prior art of record issued to Kay and Kitsukawa fails to either alone or combine to teach or suggest a system and its corresponding method for providing in which a viewer can save content and context related to a transaction conducted via an interactive television system, and the transactions can be performed in a plurality of portions, wherein the process of storing and retrieving information associated with the transaction can be repeated in multiple times at different intervals between which at least a portion of the broadcast segment is provided to the user until the transaction is completed as claimed in claims 1, 6, 10, and 16. Kay teaches a system to offer the user to purchase products and services by saving products to a list of favorites, but with Kay's system, once the user initiates the transaction to order, and the transaction must be completed at one time, without a chance for the transaction to be divided into a plurality of portions which can be stored and retrieved as preferred by the user until the transaction is completed; and Kitsukawa does not teach the storing and/or retrieving information related to a transaction in order to achieve deferral of the transaction, but he teaches the deferring advertisements instead.
